Chairman's Letter

Draft to be approved by Marieke van Kamp, INREV Chairman

Dear Members

2018 was the year of the Vision Project. A project in consultation with members and born out of a drive to take a pause, re-assess and truly understand the intrinsic needs of our growing membership community. We were eager to learn how INREV can continue to provide value and adapt accordingly to a rapidly evolving non-listed landscape. The project unearthed insights helping us in solidifying the foundations for a robust, and future-proof association, equipped in all manner to take forth our community and advance the European non-listed agenda for many years to come.

It is also pertinent to note that 2018 marked both the 15 year anniversary of our association and 10 years since the GFC. Particularly poignant that both milestones signify that we've come a long way since then, but we should not rest on our laurels because there is still much more we can achieve.

Every organisation, big or small is undergoing a digital transformation to varying degrees. It is not just a technological shift that is happening in the world of real estate, but an organisational change which is taking place at the intersection of technology, business and people.

The evolution of data and its heightened significance has proved to be very evident, highlighting a need for more data driven investment decisions. INREV has responded to this mega-trend with a multitude of plans and ambitions as set out in the IT roadmap. Plans to create a more connected, streamlined set of tools making it easier for members to engage with INREV are in the pipeline, supported by a robust IT infrastructure which also plays a key role in building a secure and future proof association.

At the end of the year, membership stood at 440 and we welcomed more new members over the year than ever before, signifying something of a positive shift in our industry. The findings of the Vision Project told us that we should remain true to our roots in keeping a European focus but adopt a global outlook which is why we strengthened key global partnerships to be able to cater to the global players throughout the course of the year.

Extending the theme of transparency and globalisation further, we introduced TGER, the first globally comparable measure of fees and costs; launched a revamped version of the DDQ – INREVs most popular tool - and created German and Japanese versions to further its reach. The revamped DDQ which is aligned with the Guidelines and Global Definitions database features sections on ESG, another topic that has grown more significant not just to the industry but to INREV over the last year. In October, we launched our own ESG Month campaign with a variety of activities including trainings, events, webinars and a feature article in the November IQ. An increased focus on sustainability of the built environment is also reflected in the revised edition of 'Real Estate in the Real Economy' which was released in 2018 to educate policy makers on our significant industry contribution.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Lonneke for leading the association through what has been a very busy but fruitful year and the members, committees and various focus groups, participants in trainings, events and other INREV activites for their commitment and engagement throughout the year. It is with such dedication that our association can continue to exist and deliver value for its membership.

Marieke van Kamp, Chairman, INREV

Activity Report 2018

In this section, INREV describes the activities that took place under each of the focus areas. These activities were supported by the work of the relevant committees, in line with INREV's priorities for 2018.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

INREV's Professional Standards programme works in close collaboration with the various INREV committees to develop and nurture a set of guidelines and standards for the European non-listed real estate market, with an increasing global focus. Topics in focus include corporate governance, financial and investor reporting, fee and expense metrics, performance measurement, due diligence, secondary markets and liquidity, and ESG.

A world first: Total Global Expense Ratio

In March 2018, we released for industry consultation the first globally comparable measure of fees and costs named Total Global Expense Ratio (TGER). This proposed global standard was designed to be simple, practical and to facilitate comparison and consistent reporting of fees and costs associated with investing and operating real estate vehicles in different regions. Over 40 companies provided a detailed response to the industry consultation, which ran between March 2018 and June 2018. Integration of TGER into the INREV Guidelines and joint global release is expected by 2020.

Global Definitions for a harmonised industry

Substantial progress was also made on the Global Definitions Database – a single depositary of definitions for the global real estate market – bringing enhanced visuals and a simplified navigation. The database was also enriched with fee and sustainability-related terms. At the end of 2018 the database included more than 500 definitions. INREV will continue to develop and add definitions as they are agreed upon at a global level with NCREIF, PREA and ANREV.

Revised DDQ more streamlined than ever

The Due Diligence Questionnaire (DDQ) remains INREV's most popular tool, used by more than 60% of our members in 2018. With the support of the Due Diligence Committee, we have updated the DDQ structure and its content, to make it leaner, while still providing the level of detail needed at the different stages of the due diligence process. The updated DDQ was released for industry consultation in January 2018. We launched the new streamlined edition in July 2018 with translations of the questionnaire being rolled out in German and Japanese in October 2018. To further help members implement the template, we released an implementation kit, including a user manual and a change log.

Open end fund pricing study: First conclusions presented

In July 2018, we published, together with AREF, the first conclusions of an industry wide study conducted into open end fund pricing in Europe, aiming to foster greater consistency and clarity on pricing policies.

Building upon the foundations that were laid in phase one, we started phase two in September 2018 to explore more focused topics such as governance around pricing mechanisms and the interaction of secondary markets and pricing. These efforts are set to continue throughout 2019.

New insights to ensure open end fund liquidity

In December 2018 we released enhanced guiding principles on vehicle liquidity to include new insights on secondary trading. In addition, the global landscape section has been extended with highlights from local practices in the US. To continue to educate and assist in creating further liquidity in the market with the support of the committee we also released a Guide to Secondary Trading in February 2018.

ESG library goes global

In September 2018, we have consolidated the ANREV library and the INREV library of ESG-related resources to create a Global ESG Library for the non-listed real estate industry. Through the new Global ESG collaboration, members can now easily navigate and gain access to an evolving depository of featured reports, papers, and case studies ranging from a variety of geographic locations (most notably Europe, and Asia Pacific). The library includes over 40 publications and is growing monthly.

In 2019, we will continue to place more emphasis on exploring, promoting and sharing knowledge on ESG factors relevant to non-listed real estate by combining expertise of corporate governance and sustainability committees for a unified ESG view.

Tailored Guidelines for multiple vehicle types

To ensure that the INREV Guidelines remain as relevant as possible to all vehicle structures we introduced online filters for separate accounts, joint ventures and club deals, in addition to open end and closed end funds. This will make it easier than ever for members to select and focus on the guidelines that apply to the vehicle type they are most interested in. This project covered all the Modules within the Guidelines. In addition, topics such as corporate governance, liquidity and debt funds are expected to benefit from further tailoring in the coming years

Corporate Governance Online Assessment updated

In December 2018, the questions in the Corporate Governance section were updated to fully align the assessment scoring system with the other modules. The format is now consistently applied elsewhere in the tool, making it easier to visualise and to compare results.

INREV's assessment tool lets managers measure their vehicles against industry best practice by determining its level of compliance with the INREV Guidelines.

Owing to the success of the Historical Data Collection project the history of the INREV Quarterly Index was extended back to Q2 2000, providing the non-listed real estate industry with over 18 years of quarterly fund performance data. The extended history of the Quarterly Index has enriched the data for the non-listed real estate industry allowing for greater insights into the evolution of the real estate fund industry and deeper analytics into this sector.

Long-awaited IRR Index is here

The INREV IRR Index was launched on the back on the success of the Historical Data Collection project in May 2018. The consultation release included 191 closed end vehicles across vintages from pre-2002 to 2017. The Index measures the internal rate of return performance of European closed end non-listed real estate vehicles since inception and is published on a quarterly basis.

Asset Level Index surpasses €100 billion target

The initiative, launched in 2015 and supported by 32 founding members (29 managers and 3 investors) was welcomed in 2018 by the release of the Data Input Tool which enables users to mass upload, harnessing the latest technology with automated validations for the verification of data. Following this, the Asset Level Index Portfolio Analysis was launched, enabling users to analyse portfolio of assets with an interactive dashboard that helps to keep on top of the asset portfolio. The Asset Level Index is on track to be launched at the 2019 INREV Annual Conference with a total to date inclusion of seven thousand assets of more than €140 billion in value, exceeding the launch target of €100 billion.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Public Affairs team in Brussels, together with the Public Affairs and Tax committees, worked to improve awareness and understanding of the non-listed real estate industry and the significant contribution that it makes to the European economy among European policy makers. Our aim is to ensure that members' interests are fully accounted for in any new EU legislation or policy initiatives.

Real Estate's significant contribution to sustainability, the real economy and European cities

In September, INREV held an event in Brussels together with GRESB and RICS, where the results of the GRESB annual survey were presented and we discussed the role of real estate investment in supporting European sustainability goals, while supporting the Commission's work on sustainable finance.

The same month, we released an update of the Real Estate in the Real Economy study, which again confirms that commercial real estate significantly contributes to European economic growth and job creation. This study is highly effective in discussions with European policy makers and the new roster of MEPs following re-elections.

In December, we held an event in the European Parliament for MEPs, Commission officials and other policy makers on 'Innovation, Technology and Real Estate: building cities for Europe's future'. The event was co-sponsored by European Parliament Urban Intergroup Chair, MEP Olbrycht, and a number of other European real estate industry associations joined the event.

The impacts of Brexit

The impacts of Brexit on the non-listed industry, especially a worst-case hard Brexit, continued to be a focus in discussions with members in events, training courses, tax and regulations briefing calls and snapshot briefings. INREV led the development of an aligned real estate industry statement on the guiding principles for future EU-UK relations, which was re-issued in December in hopes of informing Brexit negotiating policies.

Leveraging on MSCIs Solvency II update on real estate volatility

In a private meeting with EIOPA Chairman Bernardino in Frankfurt and meetings with other policy makers in Brussels, INREV presented the update of the Solvency II study carried out by MSCI that was released in 2017. This update, which provides an additional six years of investment data and five new countries, provides fresh evidence to support a Solvency Capital Requirement for real estate that more accurately reflects the volatility of real estate investment in Europe. We are hopeful that the data will lead to a more appropriate standard model real estate solvency capital requirement for European insurers as part of the EIOPA 2020 review of Solvency II.

AIFMD: A collaborative review

During the year, INREV worked closely with KPMG as it conducted a review of AIFMD for the European Commission. We organised meetings between the KPMG team and both the Public Affairs Committee and the European Real Estate Forum, and provided data useful for the review, resulting in a report to the Commission that well reflected our views on the impact or AIFMD and areas such as differing definitions of pre-marketing and external valuer liability where improvements can be made.

European Real Estate Forum: Continuing to harmonise efforts

INREV continued to play a leading role in the European Real Estate Forum (EREF), which now has 32 participating associations, including European, national and global associations. Five live EREF meetings were organised during the year to increase information sharing and alignment of efforts among European real estate industry bodies. The group is significant in improving coordination on a European level in a spirit of open dialogue and exchange. Its objective is to improve the public awareness about institutional investment in real estate and increase understanding of its social and economic value.

Industry responses to EU and OECD Policy Proposals

In 2018, INREV drafted and submitted 3 responses on a wide range of policy issues:

European Commission survey on AIFMD, UK draft Finance Bill consultation on non-resident capital gains taxation, and Guiding principles on future EU-UK relations: the real estate investment perspective.

Tax and Regulations Briefing Calls

INREV continued to offer and promote the Tax and Regulations Briefings, a monthly conference call presentation where experts present their insights and answer questions on current tax and regulatory issues facing our industry. On average, approximately 30 members joined the calls and another 40 to 50 members listened to the recordings. Topics covered included UK capital gains tax reform, the US Tax Reform Act's impact on investment in Europe, the new Luxembourg-France Double Tax Treaty, the EU action plan on financing sustainable development and the new Belgian Specialised Real Estate Investment Fund (SREIF).

PUBLIC AFFAIRS HIGHLIGHTS 2018***

- ✓ Continuous interactions with policy makers in Brussels
- ✓ Filed three consultation responses or policy statements
- ✓ Delivered eleven Tax and Reg Briefing Calls, snapshot briefings on tax and the Public Affairs programme, an update of the Tax and Regulations Guide and an update of Real Estate and the Real Economy

INREV/Henley Certificate records its first alumni

To further support the industry's next generation in their professional development, INREV has continued to partner with the Henley Business School to offer the INREV / Henley certificate in European Non-Listed Real Estate Investment. The Certificate sets the educational standard for the industry in giving members the opportunity to formalise their expertise into an industry recognised qualification and combines practical application with academic rigour. In 2018 we promoted the Certificate at events and training courses, on the INREV website, social media channels and in a variety of meetings with members. The first student graduated in March 2018 and 16 more members signed up, with a further 5 graduates going on to successfully achieve their certificate throughout the year.

Staying ahead of the curve

To ensure that course content remains relevant and topical, we reviewed the content and structure of all courses in 2018. This activity was done in close consultation with the Training Committee and the course leaders, taking delegate feedback from previous courses into consideration. A new case study came to fruition from the consultation and will be used for Debt Financing, Portfolio Construction I and II courses and Fund Structuring.

Paving the way for E-learning

To continue meeting the learning and development needs of our members we investigated new e-learning formats and possibilities. In 2018, the foundations were laid to launch an expanded scope e-learning module in 2019, with the first module focusing on Net Asset Value (NAV).

EVENTS

INREV offered a wide variety of events in 2018, including conferences, seminars, breakfast meetings and round table discussions. In total, 24 events were held, attracting 2374 attendees from 332 member companies, compared with 20 events, attracting 2051 attendees from 326 member companies in 2017.

INREV offered three flagship events: Annual Conference in April, Young Professionals Conference in July and the Autumn Conference in November.

INREV Annual Conference

The thirteenth Annual Conference was held in the Irish Capital of Dublin, attended by over 448 attendees who gathered to discuss and deliberate over the theme of, 'Finding Value in Late Cycle Investing'. We covered global economics, global politics, mega trends and with Ireland as the host, Brexit was also high on the agenda.

Dr Michael Heise, Chief Economist, Allianz started off by presenting the economic cycle in a novel way; 'If midnight is the end, the world real estate economy is at 22:45. Joska Fischer, Former German Minister of Foreign Affairs kept the audience on the edge of their seats as he addressed the topic of 'Uniting a changing Europe'.

Danny McCoy, CEO at Ibec presented the view from Dublin for local flavor followed by Claire Penny from Watson IoT for Buildings at IBM presented her view on 'Innovation and data' in real estate. As part of the interactive session, the audience were polled on if their new buildings now have intelligent systems, with just 6% voting 'true', 48% 'not true' and 46% 'partially agreeing' leading Claire to stress that technology can enable the optimisation of space, building and the provision of services but that technology is not the silver bullet; rather a tool to help deliver.

The two days of debate, discussion and fruitful networking was rounded off with food for thought by Tim Harford, The Undercover Economist who took attendees on a colorful journey to understand wishful thinking, motivated reasoning and how we could try to be aware of it in our decision making citing a few tips such as understanding emotional response, maintaining a spirit of curiosity and listening to rational debates to illustrate his message.

INREV Autumn Conference

Over 176 delegates, from 16 countries, gathered in Madrid, to attend the third INREV Autumn Conference. This fully booked flagship event welcomed around three quarters of delegates who were attending for the first time with the event targeting mid-to senior level management attendees such as Head of Fund Management, Heads of Portfolio Management, Directors and Senior Managers. The theme, 'Embracing the alternatives: future proofing the real estate industry' was the overarching theme moderated by Gabi Stein, Managing Director, Equity Capital Markets, Tishman Speyer and Matthew Ryall, Senior Consultant, Accord Group. Continuing the trend of firsts, INREV launched its event app at the Autumn Conference, with a good uptake and many attendees interacting with the speakers and asking questions via the app. The Conference was opened by Didier Sornette from ETH Zurich as he took attendees back to the 80s in his presentation on how to predict the next financial crisis. Technology and the sharing economy was discussed by Märtha Rehnberg, Co-Founder and Partner at DareDisrupt who explained that to future proof ourselves, we need to understand that disruption is not something that we can forecast but rather something that can be imagined and created. It is not what technology can do for you but what you can do for technology. The conference was rounded off by Alexis Crow from PwC who talked to the audience about the impact of trade wars on the global economy.

INREV Young Professionals Conference

COMMUNICATIONS

In 2018, INREV took the time to reflect and conduct a review of where we are as an industry association and where we need to go in the future. We continued to reach out to existing members and potential new investor members to increase their awareness of the benefits of INREV. There was also a strong emphasis on enhancing the online user journey by increasing the accessibility and visual appeal of information.

The Vision Project- we listened, learned and now we are acting

For our 15-year anniversary, INREV decided to conduct a thorough self- review. We listened to the views and opinions of a diverse sample of members to find out how business models are changing, what we are doing right and how we need to adapt to continue being relevant for member business needs. We heard that business models are shifting from a pan-European strategy to a global strategy, and global players are entering the market at an increasing rate. Also, that our balance of services and member representation are what makes INREV unique. The outcomes are reflected in the 2019-2021 Business Plan.

Member Outreach Programme

In 2018, with the support of our Member Relationship Manager, over 170 one-to-one meetings with members took place, to ensure they were informed on the wide-ranging benefits of INREV membership and to see if there was anything INREV could do to support them further. In addition, various webinars were held to present the benefits to members online. Over 80 web-based demonstrations were held for members as training for the use of our different tools and for non-members to demonstrate their potential.

A top priority for the year was to continue to reach out to existing and potential new investor members. Prospects attended our flagship events and several investor invitation-only meetings were held as part of the investor outreach programme. Fifty-six new members, a record number, joined during the year, including 8 institutional investors.

Social media on the rise

Work continued to increase INREV's visibility and reinforce its position as the voice of the industry, through a social media plan encouraging discussion on key INREV initiatives. The use of infographics, videos and commentaries by key INREV staff helped to maintain discussions on social media channels such as Twitter and LinkedIn. In 2018, the number of members following INREV on LinkedIn rose by 24% from 2,393 to 2,973. Twitter followers increased by 28% from 947 to 1,209.

INREV in the press

External media audiences again followed INREV's news and opinions closely in 2018. In total INREV achieved 147 pieces of coverage in key media, of which 129 were in national and international business media such as the Financial Times in the UK, Het Financieele Dagblad in the Netherlands and II Sole 24 Ore in Italy.

Speaking at Global Events

In line with our objective of increasing global visibility of the association, INREV speakers participated in 26 events hosted by other organisations. These included the NCREIF Winter Conference, ANREV Annual Conference CREFC Europe Conference, EY European Real Estate Workshop, Insurance only roundtable on Solvency II and Business Arena London.

Get the information you want at the right time

We take the security of members' data very seriously. We updated our policies and procedures to ensure that we were compliant with the European General Data Protection regulation (GDPR) which came into effect in May 2018. We took steps to ensure that members personal data is processed in a way that is fair, lawful and transparent. A full overview of all our actions were made available to members and is published on the INREV website. We also used this opportunity to get members to update their data and preferences so that we can more effectively provide members with the right information at the right time, according to their business needs. These steps will be instrumental as we work towards providing members with more tailored information in the future.

INTRODUCTION TO THE FINANCIAL REPORT

The Management Board recognises its responsibility to prepare Financial Statements each year that give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Association and of the profit or loss for the period under review.

In preparing these Financial Statements the Management Board has:

- selected suitable accounting policies and applied them consistently
- made judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- considered whether the going concern basis of accounting is appropriate

The Management Board is responsible for keeping appropriate accounting records that disclose, with reasonable accuracy at any time, the financial position of the Association. It is also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Association and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In 2018, the consolidated financial statements of INREV and INREV Services show:

- Members' funds increased from € 1,212k as at 31.12.2017 to € 1,512k at 31.12.2018, reflecting a net surplus of € 300k.
- Total membership income amounted to € 3,856k (compared to € 3,604k for 2017) which is very much in line with the anticipated income. The increase in income reflects a net growth of 41 members from 412 members as per 31.12.2017 to 453 members as per 31.12.2018.
- Income from the Annual Conference and the Training and Education programme has been stable with € 1,256k income stemming from the Annual Conference and € 231k from the Training and Education programme in 2018 compared to € 1,261k and € 243k in 2017.
- The Asset Level Index has led to a new income stream on the statement of operating income and expense in 2018, showing € 300k of contributions from the founding members, allowing us to build this new index which will be launched at the Annual Conference in Venice.
- Other income has increased from € 23k in 2017 to € 60k in 2018 reflecting increased sponsorship income from the Young Professionals Conference and the Autumn Conference.
- Other operating expenses decreased from € 3,265k in 2017 to € 3,086k in 2018, due to significant cost savings across the organisation, a pause on several IT related developments, including the website and several on-line tools in waiting of an integrated strategic IT road map and a drop in costs for temporary hire of external resources.

General accounting principles

Description of the accounting standards used to prepare the financial statements

The financial statements are drawn up in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. INREV has chosen Generally Accepted Accounting Principles as disclosed in the accounting policies and will apply these consistently.

Assets and liabilities are generally valued at historical cost. The balance sheet and statement of operating income and expenses contains references. These refer to the disclosures in the financial statements.

The accounting principles applied to the valuation of assets and liabilities and the determination of results in these financial statements are based on the assumption of continuity of the company.

Consolidation

The consolidation includes the financial information of European Association for Investors in Non Listed Real Estate Vehicles (INREV), its group companies and other entities in which it exercises control or whose central management it conducts. Group companies are entities in which European Association for Investors in Non Listed Real Estate Vehicles (INREV) exercises direct or indirect control based on a shareholding of more than one half of the voting rights, or of which it has the authority to govern otherwise their financial and operating policies. Potential voting rights that can be exercised directly from the balance sheet date are also taken into account.

Intercompany transactions, profits and balances among group companies and other consolidated entities are eliminated, unless these results are realised through transactions with third parties. Unrealised losses on intercompany transactions are also eliminated, unless such a loss qualifies as an impairment. The accounting policies of group companies and other consolidated entities have been changed where necessary, in order to align them to the prevailing group accounting policies.

Next to European Association for Investors in Non Listed Real Estate Vehicles (INREV), the consolidated companies are listed below:

• INREV Services B.V., Amsterdam, the Netherlands (100%)

Accounting policies for the balance sheet

Property, plant and equipment

Tangible fixed assets are valued at historical cost including directly attributable costs, less straight-line depreciation based on the expected future life and impairments.

Receivables

Receivables are initially valued at the fair value of the consideration to be received, including transaction costs. Trade receivables are subsequently valued at the amortised cost price. Provisions for bad debts are deducted from the carrying amount of the receivable.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash at banks and in hand represent cash in hand, bank balances and deposits with terms of less than twelve months. Overdrafts at banks are recognised as part of debts to lending institutions under current liabilities. Cash at banks and in hand is valued at nominal value.

Equity

The group equity consists of the retained earnings which resulted from any positive operating results and consists of the association reservers. The association reserves are at the companies free disposal.

Current liabilities

On initial recognition current liabilities are recognised at fair value. After initial recognition current liabilities are recognised at the amortised cost price, being the amount received taking into account premiums or discounts and minus transaction costs. This is usually the nominal value.

Accounting policies for the income statement

Accounting principles for determining the result

The result is the difference between the realisable value of the goods/services provided and the costs and other charges during the year. The results on transactions are recognised in the year in which they are realised.

Revenue recognition

Net turnover compromises the income from the supply of goods and services after deduction of discounts and such like and of taxes levied on the turnover.

Pension costs

European Association for Investors in Non Listed Real Estate Vehicles (INREV) applies the liability approach to account for all pension schemes. The premium payable during the reporting year is recorded as an expense. The contributions are recorded as personnel costs from the date that they become payable. Prepaid contributions are reported as accrual if this results in a repayment or a reduction in future payments. Contributions that are not yet paid are included as a liability in the balance sheet.

Income tax expense

Tax on the result is calculated based on the result before tax in the statement of INREV Services B.V., taking into account of the losses available for set-off from previous financial years and exempt profit components and after the addition of non-deductible costs. Due account is also taken of changes which occur in the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities in respect of changes in the applicable tax rate. INREV, the association, has no corporate income tax obligations.

Accounting policies of the non-consolidated annual report

Accounting policies for the balance sheet

Financial assets

Participations, over which significant influence can be exercised, are valued according to the net asset value method. In the event that 20% or more of the voting rights can be exercised, it may be assumed that there is significant influence.

The net asset value is calculated in accordance with the accounting principles that apply for these financial statements; with regard to participations in which insufficient data is available for adopting these principles, the valuation principles of the respective participation are applied.

If the valuation of a participation based on the net asset value is negative, it will be stated at nil. If and insofar as European Association for Investors in Non Listed Real Estate Vehicles (INREV) can be held fully or partially liable for the debts of the participation, or has the firm intention of enabling the participation to settle its debts, a provision is recognised for this.
